

As a very frequent business traveler, I appose cellphone use on planes. I cannot imagine the constant chatter of everyone using their phone. As difficult as it is to be "out of touch" for a few hours, we have all managed just fine up until now. Let's please leave well enough along. There is always the in-flight phone for emergencies. Thank you.